

What if there was no forever

VERSE 1

Lying in my bed
Facing a poster on the wall that helps me forget
While fish swim in the sea
And birds sing in the tree
I'm just stuck in this hollow silhouette
And while regret
Spreads its roots under my skin
Joy's outside trying to get in
Ohhhh ohhhh

A teacup in my hand
And a movie that reminds me: "got to change"
Later that night, on the couch trying to write
About something that I would never strange
And while the unreal takes upon all of my hopes
Joy's getting rid of all my ropes
Ohhhh ohhhh

CHORUS

I know
The snow's still white
The sun's still bright
And I'm a fool to think I'm right
But I keep
Waiting for the past
Making memories last
Wondering what if there was no forever

Wandering through town
Just passed that bookshop
Hoping it would smell the same
But now they're all worried about their looks
Plates displaying new books
But none of them has written your name
And while the noise seems to last eternally
People go and in the end it's just me
Ohhhh ohhhh

BRIDGE

(Ooooooh) Take me, take me ho...me
It's not enough to sit here reading, not anymo...re
Grab me by the hand, pull me as hard as you can
And I'll go
I'll show up with nothing but a sorry and a rose

I know
The snow's still white
The sun's still bright
And I'm a fool to think I'm right
But I keep
Waiting for the past
Making memories last
Wondering what if there was no forever
